Nudists Pay Salaries For Laundry Work

Deputy Labor Commissioner George Moody faced a new problem here, but finally cleared it up when Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDonald and two minor children filed complaints against a nudist colony near Soquel for $527.09.

The strangest part of the claim was the fact that a portion of the bill was for doing the laundering for nudist officials. Mr. McDonald is said to have cleared away a section of land and the children had removed poison oak from paths about the nudist camp.

Fully clothed, officials accompanied by several feminine members of the colony, appeared at Moody's office and after due arbitration, the parties compromised for $215.

San Jose News

June 20, 1934

p. 14